Get Involved

Be a part of making Dan Patch Days happen!

Volunteers are the lifeblood of many organizations and events, and Dan Patch Days is no exception. It takes over 500 volunteers to make the weekend event possible each year, from ticket sellers to tent setup to organizers who plan the event. Some spend a couple hours that weekend, others invest many hours throughout the year all in an effort to help the community celebrate its famous horse and life here in Savage.

"I started volunteering for DPD in 2002 when my neighbors were co-chairs for volunteers and guilted me into volunteering. I worked on Saturday in the concession stand making sno-cones and that's how it all began. I did such a good job I was soon promoted to running the concession stand! Why do I volunteer? I work for a company that encourages volunteering from their employees and challenges each team member to meet an amount of volunteer hours annually- that's one reason I do it. I also like to think I am doing something for the community. It's a great way to see people from your community coming together and having a good time. And when the weather is nice- it's an awesome weekend of fun!"

Dawn McLaughlin | Dan Patch Days 2011 Co-chair

Why do they do it? Let's ask them...

"It is important to our family to be involved in the community in which we live. Volunteering for Dan Patch Days was an excellent opportunity to do this. Over the years that we have volunteered, we have witnessed the event grow exponentially. Through our volunteering we have met many other residents of Savage. Dan Patch Days is an icon in our community and we feel privileged to be part of it."

Julie Christensen | Savage resident

"I was asked if Outback would consider selling food at an event called Dan Patch Days. I had never heard of the event but it was close to Burnsville Outback and I thought it sounded like a fun community event. I really loved the people I met and got to work with who were involved before I discovered Dan Patch Days, and the new people that volunteer are great also! My wife and kids are involved now and we look forward to it every summer."

Chris Anderson | Dan Patch Days Board Member

"To be involved with a group of volunteers and to add a little piece of yourself to make the whole group better is rewarding, but to work with this group of talented individuals, and the amount of things being accomplished is phenomenal.

This is a highly efficient top notch organization for an all-volunteer committee. It would be difficult to replace anyone on the team. Working in this environment makes it all worth it."

Greg Lind | Dan Patch Days Organizing Committee

"I've been volunteering on some level for 6 years. I was looking for another door to open up, besides the chamber, to get involved in the community because I was new to the area. I have seen a core group of dedicated people who truly care about their community and the success of the event. That makes me want to be involved- it's special."

Jamie Klug | Taste of Savage vendor

Have we inspired you? Whatever your talents, whatever time you can give, there is a place for you. Contact Lori Anderson at the Savage Chamber for more information on volunteering (952) 894-8876 or Lori@savagechamber.com.

A Winning Celebration Since 1953!

Yes, the times have changed. The City of Savage has grown and Dan Patch Days has grown considerably as well! This year's event promises to offer a little something for everyone, whether you plan to enter a contest or just sit back and enjoy the excitement of being part of a wonderful celebration; Dan Patch Days is the place to be!

Some say life in the 1950's was simple. Some say it was the best time in American History. In the US, the average annual salary was $2,992 and the world's population was at 2.52 billion. Kids were kids – they played outside for hours! There were no cell phones, texting or social networking. Families enjoyed simple things like getting together with neighbors, friends and family members or attending community events.

Clearly some things have changed in our world since the 1950's – but in Savage MN, one thing has stayed the same – the excitement of gathering for a community event! Not just any community event, but THE biggest and best event, Dan Patch Days!

The first Dan Patch Days was held in 1953 in downtown Savage. Dance performances, eating contests and boys horse races were a few of the fun events held as part of the celebration. It's great to see that some of these very same traditions are part of the current Dan Patch Days that's held now. We still have lots of local talent performing live on the stage. We may have "tweaked" things a bit like; replacing watermelon with blazin' hot wings – but the concept is still the same – eat and eat fast! Horse races might be a tough one to talk the Savage Park and Rec team into, but the 5K Pace and 1-Mile Club Run around Community Park is always a great alternative!

The Dan Patch Days Button... A Winning Tradition!

While many parts of the event have changed over the years, one thing has remained constant. Every year there has been Dan Patch Days, there has been a button. Even the parade can't make that claim!

When the event began in 1953, the way to be crowned Miss Savage was simply to sell more buttons than the other contestants - so much for just charm and good looks. Some years the button was needed to get into certain events like the street dances.

In the early years, the buttons were created and sold by Savage resident Ben Morelock. In fact, when a junked car on his property was finally hauled away, the trunk was found to be full of old buttons. Since 2003, the Dan Patch Historical Society has been responsible for creating and selling the button each year and keeping the tradition alive.

With the purchase of a $3 button, you have a chance to win an original intarsia, in-laid wood picture or a Savage historical blanket. And if you are lucky enough to find the horseshoe, there is a $100 bonus if you have purchased a button. Have you bought yours yet? What are you waiting for?

The 2011 Dan Patch Day Button can be purchased at Savage City Hall, Savage Library, and Razor's Edge Barber Shop.
